

About Josh Taylor

Josh Taylor is a man who is still in awe that he gets to spend time with his four miracle girls each day. Waking up with Aly and going to get their three little girls out of their beds each morning is the joy of his life. Josh is a serial entrepreneur who loves real estate and tackling new ideas and projects; however, he strives to not be known by what he does, but who he is.

Josh works as a contractor for his business, J. Taylormade Construction. For him, building homes, renovating, and watching something transform is an incredibly rewarding thing to be a part of. Josh also does real estate, including buying, selling, and renting properties.

He also loves speaking with Aly all over the country, and continues to mentor men--- his greatest passion outside of his family.

Josh enjoys spending time outdoors, bow hunting, fishing, snow skiing, and laughing with Aly and friends. He thrives off of friendships that aren't the typical "man" friendships, but the ones that are raw and real. After a long day managing projects, his favorite part of the day is coming home to his little girls running to see him and embracing Aly.
